Introduction

My colleagues,

My dear students,

The textbook is one of the most essential pillars of the educational system, as it embodies national values and provides fundamental knowledge. It is a symbol of a nation's sovereignty, instilling the values of citizenship and belonging in the hearts of students. It also serves as a prominent source from which learners acquire their initial understanding of their nation.

Since the latest revision of the educational program aims to establish an effective educational system, -one that considers students, teachers, as partners in the process of educational and intellectual development-the National Pedagogic Institute, by providing this and other textbooks, offers you a pedagogical tool that supports both teaching and learning. Your feedback and suggestions are therefore, considered a crucial and necessary element in enhancing the quality of future editions.

Fellow educators

Dear students,

Here is the English textbook for the first grade of secondary school at your disposal. And, this is a joyous occasion that calls for congratulations-to you and to the dedicated teams at the national pedagogic Institute- who worked on authoring, designing, printing, and reviewing this book. To you all, my warmest congratulations and best wishes.

Dear students,

There is no doubt that you recognize the value of these books, the effort invested in their creation and publication, and the sacrifices your parents make to provide them for you. Therefore, it is essential that you keep them clean and in good condition, take care of them, and consider them your loyal companions. For they are, indeed, your best friends.

Finally, I wish you a school year filled with hope, success, and achievement.
