Introduction

My colleagues,

My dear students,

The textbook is one of the most essential pillars of the educational system, as it embodies national values and provides fundamental knowledge. It is a symbol of a nation's sovereignty, instilling the values of citizenship and belonging in the hearts of students. It also serves as a prominent source from which learners acquire their initial understanding of their nation.

Since the latest revision of the educational program aims to establish an effective educational system, -one that considers students, teachers, as partners in the process of educational and intellectual development-the National Pedagogic Institute, by providing this and other textbooks, offers you a pedagogical tool that supports both teaching and learning. Your feedback and suggestions are therefore, considered a crucial and necessary element in enhancing the quality of future editions.

Fellow educators

Dear students,

Here is the English textbook for the third grade of secondary school at your disposal. And, this is a joyous occasion that calls for congratulations- to you and to the dedicated teams at the national pedagogic Institute- who worked on authoring, designing, reviewing and printing this book. To you all, my warmest congratulations and best wishes.

Dear students,

There is no doubt that you recognize the value of these books, the effort invested in their creation and publication, and the sacrifices your parents make to provide them for you. Therefore, it is essential that you keep them clean and in good condition, take care of them, and consider them your loyal companions. For they are, indeed, your best friends.

Finally, I wish you a school year filled with hope, success, and achievement.

Foreword

Given the importance of English in today's world, the 1999 reform of the Mauritanian educational system introduced English in junior high school. The Mauritanian Government through the Ministry of National Education and Educational System Reform has made this decision to meet the growing needs of the learners to master the English language for their personal, educational, social and professional purposes. Thus, the secondary school curricula were rewritten in August-September, 2020 based on the holistic vision, which puts the learner at the heart of its interest. This book has been updated to align with the changes introduced by the Education Orientation Law of 2025, whereby junior high school lasts three years instead of four, and English is, as of now, taught for 3 hours a week with a coefficient of 2, instead of 2 hours a week with a coefficient of 1, as was the case in the previous reform.

We hope that this textbook meets an interest in the learner and contributes to the acquisition process so that you, the students, get to level up your motivation in learning English.

Dear teachers, we hope that you enjoy using this book with your motivated learners; and help inspire and re-shape their way of thinking and acting.

Unit one who is that boy?

Lesson1

1. I learn how to describe/identify people.

2. I look and read.

Dialogue: the teacher shows a picture of one of the smartest students in the school, he is no longer there. His name is Harouna.

Yacoub

The teacher: Hello, dear students. Look at the picture, who is the boy in it?

Students A: Yes, we still remember him, Harouna.

The teacher: Good! What is he wearing?

Students B: He is wearing a green T-shirt.

The teacher: excellent! How does he usually behave?

Student A: he is always polite and speaks confidently in the class, and he is very smart.

The teacher: Well, what does he look like?

Student B: He is handsome, with black and curly hair and brown skin.

The teacher: Great! I'm happy that you still remember your one-time classmate. Can you identify him?

Student A: of course, teacher, that is my neighbor and our ex-classmate.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

- The boy with green T-shirt is Harouna.
- He is smart and polite.
- The man who is there is my teacher.
- That girl is really kind.
- What does he look like?
- What is she like?
- My father is bald.
- The teacher is young and tall.

Unit two

Twins in the class

Lesson1

1. I learn how to express similarities and differences.

2. I look and read.

Dialogue:

Mariem and Selma are sisters, they are twins and also, they are classmates. When their teacher came for the first time, she noticed that, they are alike.

Teacher: Hey! Mariem, is this your sister?

Mariem: Yes, this is my twin, Selma.

Teacher: Soubhana Allah, you too look alike.

Selma: And our handwriting is similar.

Teacher: Unbelievable! You even dress the same as each other today!

Mariem: It's normal, we like wearing matching clothes.

Selma: we are alike in many ways, but I like math and Mariem prefers history.

Teacher: That's interesting, you are similar but not exactly the same.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

- Kaedi is like Boghe.
- Mariem and Selma are alike.
- The scientists are similar to the chemists.
- Aly's smartphone is the same as yours.
- My handwriting is similar to yours.
- These two cultures are alike.
- Our answers are the same as the teacher's.

4. I can try it.

Match each phrase to its example

Phrase	Example
to look like	We have the same teacher.
to be alike	She looks like her twin sister to be the same as	He sings like a professional to be similar	This dish is similar to Mauritanian couscous.
Like	Her phone is the same as mine.
the same	They are alike in personality and habits.

5. We can work together.

In pairs, compare Kiffa to Nouadhibou and other cities, here are some common features:

crowded –big –nice –business activities- hot…

6. I can do it myself.

Instructions: Work in pairs. Compare yourselves using the target phrases.

Prompts:

· Do you look like your partner?

IPN

. Are your hobbies the same?

. Is your handwriting similar?

· Do you dress like your partner?

· Are your personalities alike?

7. I can remember.

Expressing Similarities

IPN

Unit two They have differences!

Lesson2

1. I learn how to express similarities and differences.

2. I look and read.

Rama and Aicha are sisters. Aicha is tall and very slim. Unlike her sister Rama who is very shot and fat. They are sisters but they see things in different ways. Aicha who goes to school believes that girl must practice sport (gym) and be slim, whereas Rama thinks that girl should eat a lot and always be fat. Aicha believes that life today is different from what it used to be.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

- Mauritania is different from Morocco in climate.
- Rama dress is different from the one Aicha wear.
- Unlike Nouakchott, Boutilimitt is smaller and less crowded.
- Excellence schools are not the same as other public schools.
- The student answer is not similar to teacher's.
- My English is no like natives.
- These clothes are more beautiful

- Nouakchott is bigger than Rosso.

4. I can try it.

Make a comparison to find out if the following sports are similar or different:

Basketball – karate –swimming –soccer –kick boxing (violent, demanding, popular, bloody, exciting, etc.….)

5. We can work together.

With your partner, write 5 sentences comparing two people, place, or things.

Example:

Nouakchott is different from Rosso in size.

My routine is not like my sister.

6. I can do it myself.

Find out similarities between NKTT and your hometown, then come to the stage and read your paragraph loudly.

7. I can do it myself.

Expressing differences

1. To be different from Form: Subject + be + different from + noun/pronoun

Example: Mauritania is different from Morocco in size.

Note: Used for general differences.

2. Unlike

IPN

Form: Unlike + noun/pronoun, + subject+ verb

Example: Unlike French, English has no gendered nouns.

Note: Contrasts one thing with another.

3. Comparatives

Form: Subject + be + comparative adjective (+ than + noun/pronoun)

· Example: Nouakchott is bigger than Rosso.

Note: Shows difference in degree (size, age, etc.).

4. Not the same as

Form: Subject + be + not the same as + noun/pronoun

Example: My answer is not the same as yours.

Note: Emphasizes difference in identity or quality.

8. I play with words.

Select three students: Student A and student B state two things, student C talk about the differences and similarities.

Example: SA: Peugeot –SB: A Renault –SC: A Renault is a nice and fancy car, whereas a Peugeot is a big car.

9. I Add to my Vocabulary.

Unit three My Dad's Promise

1. I learn how to express real conditions.

2. I look and read.

Dialogue: a father and his son are talking about school final exam, and the father makes a promise

Son: Dad, what will you do for me, if I pass my final exam?

Father: If you pass, I'll take you on a nice trip.

Son: Where are you going to take me to?

Father: Wherever you like to spend your vacation.

Son: I have to work hard, then.

Father: Yes, sure. If you work hard, you will make it.

Son: You can count on me; I'll not fail Dad. I'll do my best.

Father: I'll be very happy if you succeed, and gain all the points.

Son: I'll travel if I succeed. Don't forget, Dad, it's a promise!

Father: Don't worry, son! If you succeed, I'll keep my promise.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

- If you study hard, you will succeed.
- If you don't prepare, you might fail.
- If you keep your promise, you will gain confidence.
- If you play fairly, you can win the game.
- If you don't focus, you will lose the race.
- If you work hard, you will pass the exam.
- If you sleep well, you will feel fresh.
- If it rains, we will stay home.

4. I can try it.

Complete the sentences using your own ideas.

1- If you study hard, you _____

2- If it rains tomorrow, we _____

3- If I eat too much sugar _____

4- If my friend is late _____

5- If you speak English every day, _____

5. We can work together.

Match the two parts to make real conditional sentences.

Cause	Effect
If you don't sleep,	we have no class
If the teacher is absent,	you feel tired well
If you revise your lessons,	you will win the race
If you run fast,	you can't do your homework
If you forget your book,	you will pass the exam

IPN

6. I can do it myself.

Form 5 sentences using these words: lose, succeed, win, gain, fail, promise, exam, game, race.

7. I can remember.

Real conditions:

1-Zero Conditional (facts, routines, rules)

Form: If + present simple, ... present simple

Use: General truths and habits

Examples:

o If you heat water, it boils.

If students are late, the teacher marks them absent.

o If I drink tea at night, I don't sleep well.

2- First Conditional (real future possibilities)

Form: if + simple present, … will+ base verb

Use: Likely results in the future

Examples:

o If you study hard, you will succeed in the exam.

If we play the game fairly, we will win.

If you don't focus in the race, you will lose.

8. I play with words.

Choose a or b to fill in the blank space

1. I_____ to you if you send me a letter.

a. will write b. write.

2. The team _____if it doesn't rain.

a. plays b. will play.

3. The teacher _____ you out if you keep on talking in the class.

a. sends b. will send

IPN

9. I Add to my Vocabulary.

Pass	promise	hard
Lose	gain	if
Succeed	count	forget
Fail	race	win

IPN

Unit four

School Life

Lesson1

1. 1. I learn how to make comparison.

2. I look and read.

Text:

In our school, Ahmed is smart, but Mariem is even more intelligent than him, especially in science. The classroom near the playground is hot in summer, while the library is cold because of the air conditioning. Our school is big, but the village school is far away and much smaller. Fatima is good at English, whereas her brother is bad at math, so their teachers often compare their progress. During sports day at the school, Ahmed is slow in race, but Hamoud is faster. For the students the competition is more exiting.

3. I listen and repeat

- .Ahmed is smart.
- .Ali is taller than Mariem.
- This exam is easier than the last one.
- The melhfa is more beautiful.
- My phone is less expensive than yours.
- My handwriting is not as good as yours.
- Nouakchott is bigger than Rosso.

4. I can try it.

Fill in the blanks:

1- My house is _____ (big) than yours.

2- The race is _____(easy) than the last one.

3- My handwriting is _____ (good) than my brother's.

4- The exam is _____ (not/difficult) than the last one.

5-Soultan is _____ (less/ expensive) than Ezbi.

5. We can work together.

Make comparison between Nouadhibou and Atar.

6. I can do it myself.

Find out similarities between NKTT and your hometown, then come to the stage and read your paragraph loudly.

7. I can remember.

Comparisons of Superiority & Inferiority

1- Superiority (showing something is "more" or "better")

· Form: adjective/adverb + -er + than OR more + adjective + than

· Examples:

Ali is taller than Mariem.

This melhfa is more colorful than that one.

Nouakchott is bigger than Rosso.

2-Inferiority (showing something is "less" or "worse")

. Form: less + adjective + than OR not as ... as

· Examples:

. This exam is less difficult than the last one.

. My phone is not as new as yours.

. My cell phone is less expensive than yours.

IPN

3-Superlative of Superiority: Used to show that one thing is the most in a group.

Form:

. Short adjectives: the + adjective + -est

Ali is the tallest student.

. Long adjectives: the most + adjective ->

Mariem is the most intelligent girl in class.

Examples:

. Nouakchott is the biggest city in Mauritania.

· Fatima is the most hardworking student.

. This is the easiest exam we've had.

4- Superlative of Inferiority: Used to show that one thing is the least in a group.

Form:

. the least + adjective -> Ahmed is the least careful in the group.

Examples:

. This is the least interesting book.

. My handwriting is the least neat.

. He is the least confident speaker in class.

8. I play with words.

A- Put the words in the right order to make meaningful sentences:

1.of /Rap / kinds /all /music /is/popular /most / the /of

2. exciting / football / the / is / game / most

3. singer / was / Dimi / Mauritania / in / best / the

4. languages / important / English / the / is /world /the /in / most / of / one

C. Write a paragraph of eight (8) meaningful sentences about people you know, things or animals, using the superlative of superiority and / or inferiority. You can choose from the adjectives in the box below.

high - famous - interesting - bad - good - stupid - beautiful - dangerous near - clever - tall - powerful - lazy - difficult - small - expensive

9. I Add to my Vocabulary.

Most	more	less
Short	biggest	tall
Difficult	fast	hot
Cold	most	worse
Faster	bad	easy
Strong	not as …. as	least

IPN

Unit Five 5 The evolution of science

Lesson

1. I learn how to talk about past actions and events.

2. I look and read.

Text:

In the past, the way people studied nature was very different. Scientists worked with very simple tools, often observing the sky with only their naked eyes. For instance, in 1609, when Galileo was observing the stars through his first telescope, researchers measured everything by hand and recorded their results in paper notebooks. Before digital sensors existed, discovery was a slow process. A single scientist spent years working alone on one project. In 1928, while Alexander Fleming was searching for a way to fight bacteria, scientists still used to share their ideas through handwritten letters that took weeks to arrive. Because modern technology was unavailable, progress moved much more slowly than it does today. Today, however, science is moving at a much faster pace. Since the birth of the World Wide Web in 1989, scientists have been using advanced machines and powerful computers to analyze data. Instead of working in isolation, they carry out experiments in modern laboratories and communicate instantly through the internet. While researchers used to rely solely on manual observation, they now use digital platforms to solve problems. This shift helps us improve medicine and technology faster than ever before.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat • Scientists used to work with very simple tools.

• A single scientist spent years working on one project.

• They shared their ideas through handwritten letters.

• Researchers relied solely on manual observation.

4. I can try it.

Think back to your childhood. Try to remember three or four things that you did back then.

5. We can work together.

Work with your seatmates. Each of you will share two examples of things you did as a child that you no longer do today. Make sure to listen carefully to each other!

6. I can do it myself.

Imagine it is the year 2126. Write a paragraph about what we do today that will be 'old' in the future.

Example: In 2025, people drive manual cars.

7. I can remember.

-Simple past (all forms; aff, neg, interrog).

Examples:

Use: Finished past actions, historical facts, specific past times. Form: Regular: verb + -ed. Example: They worked. Irregular: 2nd form Example: They wrote letters. Negative: did not + base verb Example: They didn't work together. Interrogative: Did + subject + base verb? Example: Did they work alone?

-Past continuous: simple past of to be + verb + ing (all forms; aff, neg, interrog).

Examples:

Use: An action in progress at a specific past time, or when interrupted. Form: Affirmative: was / were + verb + ing. Example: She was observing the stars. Negative: wasn't / weren't + verb + ing. Example: They weren't using email. Interrogative: Was / Were + subject + verb + ing? Example: Was he working alone?

8. I play with words.

Match the words with their meanings:

words	meanings
1. Manual	a- Study data carefully
2. Observation	b- Working alone
3. Isolation	c- Done by hand
4. Analyze	d- Watching something carefully
5. Digital platforms	e- Online tools and systems

9. I Add to my Vocabulary.

Scientist(s): People who study nature and try to understand how things work.

Telescope: A tool used to see far objects, especially stars and planets.

Researcher(s): People who look for new information by studying and testing ideas.

Digital sensors: Devices that measure things and change them into digital information. Bacteria: Very small living things that cannot be seen without a microscope.

Technology: Tools and machines people use to make work easier.

Pace: The speed at which something happens or moves.

World Wide Web: A system on the internet where information is shared.

Data: Information collected from study or observation.

In isolation: Being alone or working without others.

Observation: Watching something carefully to learn about it.

Unit six 6

A busy afternoon

Lesson

1. I learn how to express simultaneity.

2. I look and read.

Dialogue: The teacher noticed that his student looked exhausted, as if he were tired or ill, so the two of them had the following conversation:

Teacher: What happened yesterday afternoon? You seem exhausted.

Student: Yes, it turned out to be a very busy afternoon.

Teacher: Why? What were you doing at the time?

Student: Well, while I was working on my homework, my little brother was watching TV in the same room.

Teacher: And did anything interrupt you?

Student: Yes. While I was trying to concentrate, he suddenly started laughing loudly.

Teacher: I can imagine that wasn't easy.

Student: Not at all. When my father came home, my brother was still watching TV, and I was finishing my exercise.

Teacher: So, several things were happening simultaneously.

Student: Exactly. While everyone else was relaxing, I was still working.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

While I was working on my homework, my little brother was watching TV in the same room.

When my father came home, my brother was still watching TV.

Several things were happening simultaneously

As everyone else was relaxing, I was still working.

3. _____ we were walking to school, we were discussing the exam.
4. _____ the bell rang, I was writing the last sentence.
5. _____ everyone else was relaxing, she was still working.

5. We can work together.

In a group of four, work with your classmates talk about the activity that happened in the following wilayas:Dakhlet Nouadhibou, Gorgol, Tirs Zemmour, and Hodh Ech Charghi simultanouly in the eve of the independance.

6. I can do it myself.

Write a short paragraph about yesterday using while, when, and as. Remember actions that happened at the same time (simultaneous).

IPN

7. I can remember.

While + past continuous.

When + simple past/ past continuous.

We use while, when, and as to talk about actions happening at the same time in the past.

Use 'while' for two long actions happening at the same time.

Form: while + Past Continuous + Past Continuous

While I was studying, my brother was watching TV.

Use 'when' for a short action that happens during a longer action.

Form: when + Past Simple + Past Continuous

When the bell rang, we were writing

Use 'as' for two actions happening together, often as background or description.

Form: as + Past Continuous + Past Continuous

As I was walking, I was thinking.

8. I play with words.

Rewrite the following sentences using the words in brackets:

1. I was sleeping. The phone rang. (when)
2. She was cooking. Her children were doing homework. (while)
3. We were playing soccer. The lightning struck our pitch. (when)

Unit seven 7

Railroad projects

Lesson

1. I learn how to talk about future actions and events.

2. I look and read.

Dialogue: Ahmed and Mariem are colleagues who heard that the government will begin implementing important projects in the field of transportation, and they were happy about this good news:

Ahmed: Hi Mariem! Did you hear about the government's new transport projects?

Mariem: Hi Ahmed! Yes, I did. SNIM will modernize the railway between Zouerate and Nouadhibou, and add 42 kilometers of new rail connecting future mining sites at El Aouj and Atoumai.

Ahmed: That's good news. It will help trade and create jobs soon.

Mariem: Yes, and the government will build new roads to connect cities and villages later this year.

Ahmed: That will make travelling easier. What about the ports?

Mariem: The ports of Nouakchott and Nouadhibou will be expanded in the future to receive more ships. Also, they will construct a new railway line linking Boufal to Nouakchott port.

Ahmed: And airports?

Mariem: They will improve airports and will build new ones in some regions.

Ahmed: I think transportation will be much better next year.

Mariem: Yes, Mauritania will develop a lot in the future.

Ahmed: I shall talk about these projects in class the day after tomorrow.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat

- The government will build new roads to connect cities and villages later this year.
- _SNIM will modernize the railway between Zouerate and Nouadhibou.
- The ports of Nouakchott and Nouadhibou will be expanded in the future to receive more ships.
- They will construct a new railway line linking Boufal to Nouakchott port.
- I shall talk about these projects in class the day after tomorrow.

4. I can try it.

Read the dialogue again and answer the following questions:

1-Who are talking?

2-What will SNIM modernize?

3-Will they improve ports and airports?

4-Is the future positive or negative?

5. We can work together.

Discuss with your tablemate the future of transportation in Mauritania in light of the projects the government will implement. Ask each other questions about your perspectives regarding transportation in the coming years:

Will traffic jams decrease in the coming years? Will travel be more comfortable next year?

6. I can do it myself.

Fill in the blanks (use will / won't)

a-The government ……. improve urban roads.

Unit Nine

Climate change

Lesson

1. I learn how to describe actions.

2. I look and read.

Climate change or global warming is a serious dilemma facing mankind. It is defined as a gradual increase in the earth's temperature generally due to the greenhouse effect caused by increased levels of carbon dioxide … and other pollutants. And it is leading to unexpected climate changes. This change happens faster than man could expect.

There are some natural factors that influence badly Earth's climate. These factors include external influences such as explosive volcanic eruptions which happen frequently in some places, natural variations in the output of the Sun …

With temperature records being smashed relatively month after month, year after year, it's likely that human activities made global warming easily seen in numerous phenomena such as; extreme heat events. Higher temperatures also boost evaporation, which dries out the soil in summer, intensifying drought over many areas. Results of this terrible development become more dangerous than ever before, and can be obviously observed in some aspects like:

Heavy rains and floods in some countries. (4th book).

- Decrease in water quantity in rivers and lakes.
- Drought over many areas in the world.
- Increase of heavy wind and cyclones.
- Increased extreme weather patterns.

3. I listen and repeat

Listen to the teacher and repeat.

- The earth weather is changing relatively.
- Most natural phenomena happen suddenly.
- Human activities destruction to the environment can be obviously observed.
- It used to rain frequently summer.

4. I can try it.

Complete each sentence with an appropriate adverb, derived from the given adjectives below:

Example:

-The teacher/ treats his students/ kind The treats his students kindly.

a-They will learn (gradual) …….

b-Your team played (good) …….

c- Children can repeat this song (easy) …….

d- Nice times moves (fast) …….

e- He missed many lessons, so he passed (hard) …….

5. We can work together.

Work in groups. A student chooses an adjective and his friend gives a meaningful sentence contained an adverb from that adjective.

6. I can do it myself.

Choose a famous person/ celebrity and describe the way he/she speaks and does things, using appropriate adverbs.

7. I can remember.

- To form an adverb deriving on a regular adjective just add ''ly" to it.

Example:

Slow slowly

Serious seriously

Kind kindly

Relative relatively

- Examples of irregular adverbs:

Good well

Bad badly

Far far

8. I play with words.

Add an appropriate adverb from box B to a sentence from box A.

Box A	Box B
1-The kids play …….	a-loudly

Unit Ten 10 Transport development

Lesson

1. I learn how to talk about past habits.

2. I look and read.

Since the early ages of his life, man has known various transport means. The first means of transportation was the human foot. People used to walk large distances to reach places. The first improvement made to this kind of transportation was adapting to different surfaces. Ages later man developed new ways; he used to train some animals like camels, horse, cows, donkeys, elephants… to be used as means of transport. But, since the wheel came into existence, people experienced more advanced techniques. They used to take carts driven by trained animals thus making long distance journeys easier and faster.

The means of transport used today are a result of biter human experiences. Surely, the advent of wheels has been a great revolution. One of its fruits consisted in the use of carts and carriages. Whereas the invention of cars and buses as means of roadways came into existence much later. In the 17th and 18th centuries man could invent the means of transport used today on roadways like the cycle, motor cars, trucks etc. The first car with internal combustion was produced in 1906; this technique today is the basis of many trains and cars.

Nowadays, people are very lucky because they have well advanced and more comfortable means of transportation, on roadways, sea, and space.
